

The 2011 Michelangelo Award Winners

<http://www.michelangeloawards.com/>

The Lord Charles Hotel played host to over 280 guest at this year's prestigious Michelangelo Awards. Guests to the event were treated to a superb 3 course lunch accompanied by some of South Africa's best wines.

This year saw the 15th anniversary of the awards and a record of 1385 wine entries. Out of the 226 producers who entered this year's competition a total of 475 wines received medals from 15 international judges. Only 30% of the entries may be awarded with medals according to the rules of the Michelangelo awards. This adds to the prestige of a wine bearing a Michelangelo medal. In the event of several wines attaining the same score at the cut off for specific medals, all wines with that score are awarded a medal which may lead to the 30% being exceeded.

1385 entries tasted for the 2011 competition – and these are the 15 international wine judges who did it!

From left:

Back: Dermot Nolan MW (Ireland)

Middle: John Salvi MW (France), Nellie Salvi (France), Florence Variance (France), Dominique Rizzi (Luxembourg), Sue van Wyk CWM (Australia), Gerard de Vos (Belgium), Giorgio Colli (Italy), Sagi Cooper (Israel), Constantine Stergides (Greece).

Front: Fabricio Portelli (Argentina), Guiseppe Rizzardi (Italy), Christine Rudman CWM (South Africa), Elie Maamari (Lebanon), Marin Berovic (Slovenia)

This year the red wine category attracted the most entries. Shiraz took the lead with an overall number of 169 wines. The judges commented that the Shiraz examples of 2009 were well-integrated and had good varietal character, while the wines of 2007 expressed quality in fruit and balance. The red class with the second highest number of entries was Cabernet Sauvignon with 143 entries. The judges commented that the 2010 wines were singled out as showing the most promise. Wines from the 2009 vintage were forthcoming, fruity and well-balanced whereas those of 2008 appeared to lack phenolic maturity and therefore they were often thin and green –there were however many exceptions.

Red Blends were the third most popular class with 116 entries followed by Pinotage with 100 entries.

On the white side a record number of 169 Sauvignon Blanc wines were tasted, followed by Chardonnay with 97 entries and Chenin Blanc with 65 entries. The Sauvignon Blanc class garnered 5 double gold, 22 gold and 33 silver medals.

The Muscat wines really impressed the judges and was described as beautiful sweet wines. They appreciated the fact that these wines are not imitations of European styled wines, but have their own unique style – rich, but not flabby, and well-balanced overall. The judges appreciated the uniqueness of these wines and numerous medals were awarded to fortified wines.

The following wines were awarded Grand D'Or medals:

In addition, twelve trophies were awarded. The trophy winners are:

The CCL Label Grand Prix Trophy: Journey's End Chardonnay 2010 - This trophy is awarded for the wine with the highest score in the competition.

The Grotto 2010 Top Producer Trophy: Journey's End

The RX South Africa Most Innovative Wine on Show Trophy: Blaauwklippen Before & After – This is the third consecutive year that Blaauwklippen is awarded this trophy.

The Organic Trophy: Laibach Woolworths Merlot 2010

Good Taste Garagiste Trophy: Dispore Kamma Syrah 2008

The Sue van Wyk Pinotage Trophy: Diemersdal Pinotage Reserve 2010

Tonelería Magrenan Brandy Trophy: Van Ryn's 20 Year Collector's Reserve

Golden Oldie Trophy: Rietvallei Muscadel 1980

Dessert Wine Trophy: KWV Likeurwyn 1937

Best International Entry 2011 : Viña Concha y Toro SA Marques de Casa Concha Merlot 2009 – This is the first of three new trophies introduced this year.

Best Fairtrade Red Wine Trophy 2011 – Stellenrust Timeless Red Blend 2008 - This is the first year the two Fairtrade trophies are awarded.
